BARBOURVILLE, KY., FRIDAY, JULY 2, 1920

ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS A YEAR IN ADVANCE

FAULKNER-CLARK

A wedding of much interest to prominent families of the town took place at high noon Friday, June 25, when Mr. Robert T. Faulkner, the splendid son of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Faulkner, was married to Miss Mae Clark, the pretty and charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Clark. The ceremony was at the home of the bride's parents, being performed by Rev. R. L. Creal, the bride's pastor.

The young people stood before a bank of ferns, honeysuckle and sweet peas that had been arranged around the south window of the attractive reception room. Sweet peas and red roses filled the pleasant rooms with their fragrance.

The bride wore a dark blue traveling suit, with hat to match and a corsage bouquet of sweet peas and tulips.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Faulkner, accompanied by young members of the two families, left in automobiles for Corbin, where they took the southbound train.

Only the immediate families and Rev. and Mrs. Creal were present.

Those who motored to Corbin with the bridal couple were—Mr. and Mrs. John Croley, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clark, Dr. and Mrs. Edward Faulkner, Misses Anderson and Nancye Faulkner, Messrs. Herman Parker, Will H. Faulkner and Master Marvin Faulkner.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank from our hearts all those who assisted in trying to save the life of our husband and father, including Messrs. Walter F. Carr, the aviator, Supt. Smith and Mr. T. H. Haden, Jr., who assisted from outside of town. Also for the many acts of loving kindness which were showered upon us without stint and for the beautiful flowers sent both to our home and the church. While words cannot repay such love, we shall ever treasure the memory of these kindnesses.

Mrs. T. J. Belcher and Family.

TOO FEW CIVIL-SERVICE APPLICANTS

The Civil Service Commission invites special attention to the fact that in examinations held recently in Middlesboro, Ky., and other cities throughout the country for calculating-machine operators, addressograph operators and feeders and posting-machine operators, mechanics and experts, departmental service (Washington, D. C.) apprentice fish culturists, Bureau of Fisheries, and domestic science teachers, Indian Service, applicants were not secured in the number desired, and that these examinations will again be held on July 7.

Persons interested in these or other examinations should apply to the Secretary of the U. S. Civil Service Board at the local post office for detailed information and application blanks.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh M. Oldfield, who left here for Chicago, are now in St. Louis where Mr. Oldfield is doing research work for various organizations.

STURM-CAWN

The marriage of Mr. Louis Sturm, a business man of Appalachia, Va. and formerly of Barbourville, and Miss Beatrice Cawn, of New York, sister of Sam Cawn, was consummated June 21st, at the Hotel Farragut, Knoxville, Tenn., Rev. I. Winnick performing the ceremony. After a few days spent in Knoxville, the young couple left for New York via Barbourville, to spend the rest of their honeymoon.

Their friends send with them best wishes for a long and happy life.

ALGOT CEDARHOLM

BADLY HURT

Auto Struck By Train—Two Killed

The friends of Algot Cedarholm, former partner of Bert Churchill, will be sorry to hear that he is in St. Luke's Hospital, Chicago, suffering from severe injuries received when the auto in which he was riding with two friends with whom he was visiting at Elgin, was struck by a train. The gentlemen, who was driving the car, and his wife were instantly killed and it is a wonder that Mr. Cedarholm was not for he was seated in the middle. His scalp was nearly torn off and the left arm nearly wrenched from his body but he retained consciousness and was able to give names and the address to those who came to help them. They were on their way to a camp on the shore of Lake Michigan to visit Mrs. McDonald, daughter of those who were killed. Altho seriously injured the doctors state that Mr. Cedarholm will recover.

GUYN-SAMPSON

The marriage of Mr. Aubrey H. Guyn and Miss Mary Dowd Sampson took place at the home of Mrs. Fannie Sampson, mother of the bride, on Tuesday, June 29, at one o'clock. The rooms were decorated in June flowers and ferns. Only a few intimate friends were present.

These young people are very well known in Barbourville both having completed their college course at Union last May. Miss Dowd is also an accomplished musician.

Mr. Guyn is not only a well established minister in the Methodist Episcopal Church for which he has been preaching for several years, but is also known as a successful business man.

Immediately after the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. S. F. Kelley, grandfather of the bride, the happy young couple left for Cincinnati where they will spend some time. The hearty good wishes of their many friends go with them for a long and happy life together.

SMITH-CANNON

The wedding of Joe Smith, a very popular employee of the Hickory Mill and Miss Dona Cannon, charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Cannon, took place on Saturday at the home of Will Cannon, Heldrick, brother of the bride. Their many friends will wish the young couple every happiness as they travel life's pathway together.

ROOSEVELT ON HARDING

"Harding never makes mistakes!" Thus Theodore Roosevelt once summed up in his characteristically to-the-point fashion, the great fitness of the man whom the Republican party has named to the Presidency. —St. Louis Times.

SIX O'CLOCK DINNER

A six o'clock dinner was given by Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Smith upon the return of their daughter, Miss Anna Mae and her guest, Miss Blanche Smith, of Pineville. Those present were Blanche and Caroline Scent, Lela Vincent, Rebecca Sawyers and Miss Minnie Hopkins, of Corbin.

ERNST HEARTILY ENDORSED BY WOMEN VOTERS

If the women of Kentucky are going to play an important part in the fall campaign as predicted, it begins to look as though Richard P. Ernst, of Covington, candidate for the U. S. Senate, is going to win in a walk.

Asserting that Ernst has accomplished "great things" for Kentucky, not only in civic enterprises and charities, but also in church work and war work, the women, regardless of party affiliations, are rallying to his banner, announcing their "undivided support."

And this is not all the women are planning to do for Ernst, says a member of the Kenton County Equal Franchise Association.

"We are going to carry the good work right into the men's territory and double and triple the support," she announced.

An idea of what the women are planning to do for Ernst can be obtained from the following endorsements:

"Undivided support" has been promised by members of the Home Protective League of Covington in a resolution that was adopted unanimously. The league is composed of housewives and club women who have joined the organization for bettering civic conditions.

Similar action was taken by members of the Covington Art Club, which comprises some of the most prominent women in Northern Kentucky.

"Heartily endorsement" was offered by the Covington's Woman's Club. The resolution said in part:

"In endorsing the candidacy of Richard P. Ernst, the members wish it understood that said endorsement is given on account of the principles and standard of citizenship represented by him and not because of his party politics."

The Kenton County Equal Franchise Association, in endorsing Ernst added: "Be it further resolved: That all movements looking to the education, civic and social well-being of the city and state have always had prompt and generous support from Ernst, and believing his election would guarantee to the State of Kentucky and the County of Kenton whole hearted interest and impartial service, we call upon all members and friends of good government to honor Ernst and themselves by sending him to the United States Senate."

NEW IDEA OF SELLING WOOL FOR THE ENTIRE STATE

The Department of Markets, of the College of Agriculture, originated the plan of pooling all the wool in the State into one large central pool. The popularity of this idea is well demonstrated by the fact that applications have been made for wool growers from Ohio and Indiana to have their wool in this sale. The State Auction will be held in a tobacco warehouse in Lexington, June 28th. Some thirty counties in the State have pooled their wool which is being graded by expert graders using government standards. Fifty pound samples will be submitted from each county at the central auction and there the buyers will have the privilege of bidding on about 750,000 pounds of Kentucky's wool.

Evelyn, Pauline and Baby Gregory, daughters of Rev. and Mrs. W. P. Gregory of Louisville, came in on the early train Wednesday morning surprising their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gregory. Their many young friends will be glad to welcome these young ladies for the summer vacation and it is safe to say there will be something doing.

BAPTIST DISTRICT MEETING

The yearly Conference of the Baptist Women in the Southeastern District of Missionary Union work was held at the Baptist Church here on June 23rd. The program began at 10:30. Dinner was served in the Sunday School rooms and the afternoon session closed at 4 o'clock.

Mrs. W. E. Hunter, of Somerset, wife of the pastor of the First Church at that place, being vice-president of the District, presided.

The hour before lunch was given to Mrs. Janie Cree Bose, of Louisville, Corresponding Secretary of Kentucky's W. M. U. Mrs. Bose possesses a wonderful charm as a public speaker and moves the hearts of her hearers as few women can. She was taken out of Kentucky during the recent 75 million campaign at the request of the Southern Women and made the principal speaker throughout the South at women's meetings. Kentucky women are justly proud of their Corresponding Secretary—both because of her consecration and her ability. Any missionary program that bears Mrs. Bose's name provides a rich treat for her audience.

Other speakers were Mrs. Hunter and Mrs. W. L. Walker, wife of Rev. Walker of the First Church at Danville. Mrs. Walker is the Chairman of our Mission Study work. She is a charming speaker. Mrs. Brock, of London, and Mrs. F. D. Perkins, of Harlan, led the Devotional Exercises. Mrs. Harry Lee Thornton, wife of Rev. Thornton, of London, was one of the speakers.

The Southeastern District is composed of 23 Associations, mostly in the mountain section. Our people in this section are being aroused to the fact that in order to do things for God they must understand the needs and know what to do; so it is coming to pass that our finest men and women are opening their eyes to the wonderful response of these mountain people, and more speakers and workers will enter the field.

Mrs. Bose will visit two Associations near Barbourville this summer. Every woman who can hear her should do so. It is an opportunity to learn about God's work among Baptist women that should be regarded as a serious thing.

Among the town visitors at this meeting were many Methodist ladies among them being Mrs. R. B. Cramer, of Union College, who gave us a much appreciated talk on Rural District Missionary Work; Miss Scott, Methodist missionary to Burma, was also present and made a talk.

The churches of the S. E. District represented were:—Harlan, Middlesboro, Pineville, Somerset, Danville, London and Harboursville.

The visitors were entertained by the Barbourville W. M. S.—Contributed.

HICKORY MILL CHIPS

The Old Hickory boys are getting their full enjoyment out of the Redpath Chautauqua this week.

Mr. T. W. Minton spent Monday in Tennessee and had to leave his horse and chickens for a day.

Look for the base ball write up this week.

On Saturday evening, June 26th, at 3:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Chelsie Broughton, Joe Smith was married to Miss Dona Cannon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murphy Cannon of Harboursville. Joe is one of our faithful boys and we think lots of him. We all extend to them our good wishes and trust that this Harboursville boy and girl will have many years of happiness.

The new office is now finished and waiting the return of Miss Nola, who is at present enjoying herself in Chicago.

Roadie Miller is wearing a baby cap—he must be thinking of matrimony.

Jaxon Mayes came down here Saturday morning with a big smile and announced the arrival of a baby girl at his house.

Mrs. T. W. Minton is at home now and is feeling much better after three weeks under the direct care of her physician in Cincinnati.

N. C. Robbs, the sawyer, and John Woolfham have their hair cut to the skin ready for the big battle with the logs.

Messrs. Edwards and Schroeder were discussing last week the advisability of getting wigs for the bald heads. They better wait till cold weather.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends and relatives who stood by us so faithfully in the last sickness and death of our dear father, W. L. Brown, which occurred on June 23rd, 1920. The Children.

DEPUTY SHERIFF SHOT

E. L. Lytle, deputy sheriff, living in Sunshine, was shot and mortally wounded while chasing some moonshiners up on Poor Fork about two miles from this city.

The moonshine party consisted of one man and two women, mounted on mules, and as Lytle demanded their surrender another man stepped out of the bushes and shot him in the back. The party then all made their escape and up to the time we go to press nothing had been heard concerning them. It is thought the two supposedly women might have been men dressed in women's clothing.

Lytle was taken to the Harlan Hospital where it is said there is absolutely no chance for his recovery. —Harlan Enterprise.

OLD HICKORY'S BATTERING RAM STILL WORKING HAVOC

Saturday the game between Old Hickory and Pleasant View was so one-sided, some 22 to 3, that there was little zest in it. Sunday they defeated Corbin by a score of 6 to 4 in a seven inning game. Corbin evened up somewhat by defeating Wilton.

REPUBLICANS RECORD ON SUFFRAGE

"The Republicans are pledged to see the right of suffrage given to the women of the country under the law," declared Representative Simpson D. Fess, in the House of Representatives before adjournment of Congress. "The very first act of this Congress, by an overwhelming vote, was the enactment of this reform. There were 204 votes on this side of the House for it with but 18 against it, or the ratio of 11 to 1, and on the other side not sufficient to mention. 44 of the Democratic votes for it came from Republican States. Subsequently 29 Republican states have ratified it and not a single Republican state up to date has rejected it. Eight of the 29 did not cast a single vote against it in either House or Senate. Six Democratic states have ratified it and six have rejected it."

Dr. and Mrs. I. A. Arnold, of Louisville, were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. John G. Tye last Thursday. This was their first trip to our city and they were delighted with it and its surroundings. Dr. Arnold was one of the principal speakers at the Tri-County Medical Association meeting held at Corbin and the doctors accompanied by their wives, made the trip over to our neighbor city by auto.

J. B. Campbell made a hurried trip to Cincinnati the last of the week.

CIVIC LEAGUE MEETING

On account of the regular meeting day coming during Chautauqua, the League met one week earlier, June 24th, at the pleasing home of Mrs. W. S. Hudson, on Knox Street, for the musical part of the History program. There was a large number present and after a short, informal business session the following program was rendered:

Columbin the Gem of the Ocean, by Woman's Chorus.

Rock Beside the Sea.—Vocal Solo by Mrs. Kate Ballard.

Flower Song.—Piano Solo, Mrs. W. S. Hudson.

Carry Me Back to Old Virginny.—Woman's Chorus.

Vocal Solos—(a) "Lorena," (b) "Paul Vane or Lorena's Reply," by Mrs. R. L. Creal.

Piano Solo—Massa's In the Cold, Cold Ground, Mrs. H. H. Owens.

Juanita.—Woman's Chorus led by Mrs. Ballard.

Medley—Old Kentucky Home, Old Folks at Home, Old Black Joe, Dixie, Home, Sweet Home, by Woman's Chorus.

Woman's Chorus was composed of Mesdames Ballard, Creal, Cramer, Hudson, Cannon, Miller and Owens.

The old flag, treasured by all Barbourville, was unfurled during the singing of Columbia. All of the numbers were given in the style of fifty years ago and altogether the program was very pleasing. It is hoped to repeat both the program and the display of relics at a latter date and at such a time and place that the public can attend.

An interesting fact is that the sheet of music from which Mrs. Ballard sang "My Lone Rock By the Sea" is fifty-four years old.

Mrs. J. R. Taggle made a report on the possibility of a Public Library for Barbourville, and she was appointed chairman of a committee to look after this most interesting possibility. The committee will be known as the Public Library Committee.

A very pleasant social half hour was spent after the program during which the hostess served tea and sandwiches, assisted by Mrs. Lusk and Walter Cole Hudson, Mr. Turnbow, of the Redpath Chautauqua, and Robert W. Cole were guests.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. W. H. Minton, on College St., on Thursday, July 15th, at 3 P. M.

Hughes L. Tanksley, special agent of the Bureau of Census, was here Monday and spent most of the week securing schedules of manufacturers' mines and quarries. Mr. Tanksley is a courteous gentleman and took great pains to straighten out what to most of the uninitiated is a most entangled subject. Mr. Tanksley's home is at Manchester.

Now comes Congress and proposes to increase the tariff on benns. We fully expect that Secretary Daniels will see in this another attack on the navy.—Portland Oregonian.

Mrs. Guerdon Hitts has returned to her home in Williamsburg after visiting Mr. Edward Faulkner.

HAD CHRONIC BRONCHITIS FOR TWENTY-SIX YEARS NOW WELL AND HAPPY THIS IS WORTH READING.

The experience of Mr. E. J. Tou-pali, 1438 Rose street, LaCrosse, Wisconsin, is chiefly remarkable on account of the length of time he was afflicted.

He writes: "I have been suffering with chronic bronchitis for twenty-six years and every winter
I would catch cold and become so hoarse I could not speak for six or eight weeks. I could get only temporary relief.

"This winter I was taken with Grip and was in awful shape. A fellow workman advised me to take PE-RU-NA. By the time I had used three-fourths of a bottle, the hoarseness was gone, also that tired feeling. I am on my second bottle. Hereafter PE-RU-NA will be constantly in my house. It is the best medicine ever put up for the purpose."

For any disease due to catarrh or catarrhal conditions, PE-RU-NA is equally dependable. Coughs, colds, catarrh of the head, stomach trouble, constipation, rheumatism, pains in the back, side and joints, bloating, belching gas, indigestion, catarrh of the large and small intestines, are some of the troubles for which PE-RU-NA is especially recommended.

PE-RU-NA can be purchased anywhere in either tablet or liquid form.

STRAIN TOO GREAT

Hundreds of Barbourville people find Daily Toil a Burden

The bustle and worry of business men.

The hard work and stooping or workmen.

The women's household cares.

Often weaken the kidneys. Backache, headache, dizziness, kidney troubles, urinary troubles—frequently follow.

A Barbourville citizen tells you what to do.

R. F. Harbin, blacksmith, says: "My work is hard on my back and kidneys. At one time I got down with my back, so that I couldn't work. I had rheumatic twinges in my joints and limbs and my kidneys acted irregularly, especially at night which broke my rest. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from the Costello Drug Company, and they promptly rid me of the backaches and rheumatic twinges. Doan's Kidney Pills are the best kidney medicine I have ever used."

HUMMING BIRD AND WEASEL

"A rail fence built over thirty years ago led from the Ruby-throat's apple tree to a grove of hemlocks some hundred feet north," says R. L. Brasher in his story of his intimate study of a humming bird family related in "A Gallant to Ruby and Gold" published in the July issue of Boys' Life. "This had been a favorite runway for red squirrels and chipmunks, but from the time of Ruby-throat's arrival they were forced to make a detour. A red squirrel can move speedily on familiar fence roads (once I followed one for nearly half a mile, my horse was going at a fast trot while the little fellow carried a butterfat, and he was still ahead when he turned the corner,) but when Sir Ruby advanced to the attack—a tawny streak flashed along that rail road and disappeared into the dark green coniferous shadows.

"The fiercest scrap of all took place nearly beneath the home tree at the end of the fence. I saw what at first appeared to be a venturesome red squirrel which had not been initiated into the fact that this particular chestnut highway was closed, come swiftly along its top half way down he was met by an exploding shell, but continued forging ahead. The onslaught became more insistent, shells exploding more rapidly as he approached the sacred precincts, the final attack being delivered at the end of the fence directly beneath the apple tree. The diminutive warrior's feints and dives followed each other with the swiftness and regularity of machine guns, and at last the weasel—for it was one of these blood thirsty little demons—could stand it no longer but escaped into a friendly hole among the rocks. As far as my observation goes, the humming-bird is the only thing smaller than himself which has ever made this terror turn tail."

A CHAPTER ON SANDWICHES.

As this is the glorious time of year for outings, camping, boat trips and picnics, the sandwich will be the most common article of food. The following may be suggestive, although one may make sandwich filling or soup out of almost anything that is palatable.

Watercress.—Is obtainable, there is nothing more snappy and refreshing for a sandwich filling. Season with lemon juice, olive oil, salt and pepper with a pinch of sugar, or simply salt and sugar.

Pepper Filling.—Chop green peppers that have been seeded and the white pulp removed and slimmer for ten minutes in a tablespoonful of butter. Season with salt and set aside to cool. Spread on buttered bread.

Dutch cheese.—made smooth with cream and seasoned with chopped chives, or green pepper, nuts or both.

Grated horseradish.—with cream spread on buttered bread.

Tongue.—cooked, spread with mustard, cut in thin slices.

Swiss cheese.—cut in very thin slices. Rich American cheese grated and mixed with cream, spread on rounds of bread and fried on both sides in a little butter.

Watercress with hard-cooked eggs.—chopped and mixed, or hard-cooked eggs chopped, seasoned with melted butter, a pinch of mustard, salt and a dash of cayenne. Eggs mixed with grated cheese, chopped onion or chopped cucumber.

Thin slices of banana.—dressed with oil and lemon juice.

Corned beef spread.—with mustard cut in thin slices.

Chopped dates and nuts.—flavored with a pinch of cinnamon and cloves. Drained and boned anchovies, pounded to a paste with butter. Or anchovy paste may be purchased. Chopped egg mixed with anchovy is good; also cream cheese.

Thinly sliced radishes.—sliced cucumbers seasoned with mayonnaise, placed on slices of buttered bread just before serving, so that they will be crisp.

Puzzling the Prelate.

There are some good stories in "Records," Lord Fisher's volume of reminiscences. One of the best concerns a dinner party he gave at his house: "There was present a Roman Catholic archbishop. He was a great saint. Another of my guests was a famous conjurer. After dinner we sat down to play cards. But the new pack I had ready was found to be missing. 'Hullo!' I said. 'Where are the cards gone to?' The conjurer said: 'It doesn't matter; the archbishop will let us have the pack he always carries about in his pocket.' The holy man furtively put his hand in his pocket, thinking my conjurer friend was only joking—and, dash it! there they were. I never saw such a look in a man's face. He evidently thought Satan was crawling about somewhere."

Goat Milk Condensory.

The only goat milk condensory in the world is located at Pesadero, San Mateo county, 45 miles south of San Francisco. Here the Widemann goat milk laboratories maintain a herd of 6,000 milk goats, according to the California development board annual report. The milk goat is seemingly immune from tuberculosis and the demand for canned milk from physicians for use of tubercular patients and infants far exceeds the supply. Interest in this branch of dairying is increasing, indicated by growing demand for breeding stock and importation of outstanding animals. During the last two years the number of milk goats owned in the state has increased about 50 per cent, many of them purchased for family use.

Unpleasant Swimming Companion.

A girl had a terrifying experience in the Zwartkops river, South Africa, recently. She had been swimming with her father, but stayed out longer than he did. From the bank he heard a joking remark, and the next moment she cried out in obvious terror and pain. The father was within reach, and as his daughter flung an arm upwards he grasped it, and dragged her from the water. It appears that when she was within a couple of feet of the jetty the girl became conscious of the presence in the water of something large, which appeared to be swimming towards her. Thinking it was her father swimming submerged to give her a ducking, she laughingly called to him to stop joking. Then she became aware that the swimmer was a shark!

Everyone likes to see thieves outwitted.

It's being done every week in Akron, Ohio by a new plan put in operation by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company.

Akron is not a "pink tea" city and it is visited by undesirable characters who are looking for "soft-pickings" in the crowds, especially on pay days. There's every kind of thief from pickpocket to highwayman, and each night would bring its hold-ups.

Now the company pays the wages of the shift that ends work at midnight by a deposit on a checking account in each man's name. As a result the men do not have to carry money on pay nights and run the risk of losing it.—Goodyear News Service.

Cause of Thunder Storms.

Broadly speaking, there are three general stages in the development of a thunder storm. There must be strong currents of moist air rising from the earth, as indicated by the appearance of the white patches of cloud. This condition must continue until the sky is covered. And lastly, the force of these upward currents must be great enough to push the clouds up into thunder heads. A thunder storm then results.—Popular Mechanics Magazine

Nature Plays Few Favorites.
 Personality that attracts and compels respect is not always a matter of birth. To be sure a man reflects the standing of his grandfathers and takes a running start from their shoulders. But life's arena is large and admits all comers. It takes the poor lad and boosts him to wealth. It as often takes the pampered son of the rich and introduces him to a life of toil. Sometimes he doesn't take kindly to it, so he lands in the common dump where all failures drop sooner or later. Money is a god-send or a curse and the way we use it shows what we are.

COOL DISHES FOR HOT DAYS.

Frozen dishes, cooling drinks and gelatine dishes of various kinds are especially agreeable for this season of the year.

Pineapple Cream.—Make a syrup by boiling two cupsful of water with one of sugar for fifteen minutes; strain and cool, add one can of grated pineapple and freeze to a mush. Fold in the whip from two cupsful of heavy cream. Let stand thirty minutes to harden before serving.

Cafe Frappe.—Beat the white of an egg slightly, add one-half cupful of cold water, and mix with one-half cupful of ground coffee; turn into a scalded coffee-pot, add one quart of boiling water and boil three minutes. Let stand on the back part of the range ten minutes; strain, add one cupful of sugar, cool and freeze to a mush. Serve in frappe glasses with whipped cream, sweetened and flavored.

Strawberry Ice Cream.—Take two quarts of strawberries, hull and sprinkle with one and three-fourths cupsful of sugar. Let stand one hour, mash and rub through a sieve. Send one and one-half cupsful of milk, add one and one-half tablespoonsful of arrow root to a half cupful of milk. Add to the hot milk and cook ten minutes. Cool, add cream, freeze to a mush, add the fruit and finish freezing.

Snow Pudding.—Soak two tablespoonfuls of gelatin in one-half cupful of cold water, dissolve in one cupful of boiling water, add one and one-half cupsful of sugar, one-fourth of a cupful of lemon juice and one and one-fourth cupsful of orange juice. When beginning to thicken fold in the whites of three eggs beaten stiff.

More Precious Than Gold.—There are now several metals, not to mention priceless radium, which are valued at much more than their weight in gold; iridium at $170 an ounce, palladium at $130 and platinum at $105. Gold is $25 an ounce. Yet there is something more precious than platinum, long considered the most expensive of all.

A Conversation.

Between 2 and 3 o'clock—at the half-way house of night—I heard slow hoofs below my window, and leaning out, saw under moonshine two great cart horses wandering down the road together. They were enjoying a phase of their existence unknown to us. They conversed in little sounds and when one stopped, to snort and sniff at the water of a duck pond by the way, the other also stopped, raised his head and looked steadfastly up into the starry sky. I saw the moonlight in his big eyes. Presently they put their noses together. Then one gave a slight start—perhaps at the opinions of the other—and side by side they sauntered away into the night-hidden land.—Phillipotts.

For the Heathen.

There was a collection taken at our church to clothe the heathen in Africa. I handed my wife two quarters saying, "Well, here are a couple of buttons, for the heathens, anyway." My little boy heard the conversation but did not see the money passed. A few days later the minister called, the little boy asked the minister whether the heathens wore trousers, the minister answered in the affirmative, and asked why he asked the question. "O," said the little boy, "now I know why papa gave mamma a couple of buttons to put in the box the time you took up the collection." It took me some time to straighten out the situation.—Chicago Tribune.

Five Minute Chats on Our Presidents

By JAMES MORGAN

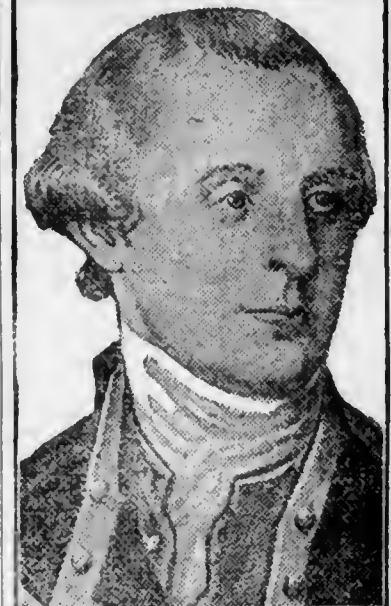

(Copyright, 1920, by James Morgan.)

GEORGE WASHINGTON

1732—(Feb. 22) Born near Fredericksburg, Va.
 1753—First expedition to the West.
 1754—Second expedition.
 1755—On staff of Gen. Braddock.
 1759—Married Martha Custis.

WASHINGTON was made of the same clay as most Americans who have won high leadership and, like them, he cut his teeth on the crust of poverty. Only four or five of our presidents came from poorer homes than our first president and he had less schooling than four-fifths of his successors. He was, in fact, the only president in the first forty years who was without a college education. Not starting to school until eight, he had to leave at fourteen to go to work. Thenceforth until the Revolution the woods and fields were his only school-room and life his only schoolmaster.

We never can truly understand this man if we start with the mistaken idea that he was the product of wealth and aristocracy. His people really were only a plain, though always highly respectable family, living on the outskirts of the cavalier estate which set up its manners in the James river region. George's own father, who at one time had been a sailing captain in the trade with the mother country, left his wife and children at his death five thousand acres of land, more or less unproductive; twenty-two slaves, a slender purse and a lean ladder.

While at Mt. Vernon, which his oldest brother, Lawrence, had inherited, he learned the staple rudiments of surveying, and Lord Fairfax, who lived nearby, employed him to survey a vast estate in the Valley of Virginia.

In his young manhood Washington found his "inclinations strongly bent to arms." To softer arms than those of Mars the young militiaman also was inclined.

Frying posterity finds him at sixteen playing for a mysterious "lowland beauty," who would not have the penitence survivor. He received also by his own confession a "moral sentence" from a "Miss Betsy," and afterward was rejected by Miss Phillipse of New York. At last the oft-disappointed wooer came to the White House on the Pamunkey, and once more he lost his heart. The mistress of the manor, Mrs. Martha Dandridge Custis, was wise enough to keep it, being a widow of seven years, the mother of two fatherless children, the owner of large estates.

When flying embers from the war fields of Europe ignited the savage forests of the New World, Washington was a militia major, and he was dispatched on a mission to the Ohio, a perilous journey of ten weeks through a wintry desolation. The next year he went again with a band of soldiers, for now the Seven Years' war had spread to America. His campaign was hardly a glorious failure, but he reported that he liked to hear the bullets whistle.

Now General Braddock came to scorn the colonial breed while he showed them how British regulars fought in proper, soldierly formation. The undrilled red children of the forest stubbornly refusing to fight on the European plan, Braddock fell amid his pale-stricken troops on the Monongahela. At the head of his grave in the wilderness the prayers for the dead were read by Colonel Washington.

Although Washington had won no battles, he had made a most important conquest. When the Seven Years' war came he was still an Englishman, and to him an island three thousand miles away still was home. In his contact with British officers he was shocked to find their allies to him and his New World and himself only a colonial in their eyes. With native condescension they undertook to teach him his place, but with native independence he objected.

By the time the Seven Years' war was over the colonial no longer

FIRST IN WAR AND PEACE

1775—June 15, appointed commander in chief.
 1781—Oct. 15, received the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown.
 1788—Dec. 23, surrendered his commission to congress.
 1789—April 30, inaugurated first president, aged fifty-seven.
 1793—March 4, inaugurated a second time.
 1796—September, Farewell address.
 1797—March 4, retired.
 1799—Dec. 14, died.

THE choice of Washington to be commander in chief of the Revolution is one of the mysterious but happy accidents of history. Nothing in the deeds of this militia colonel, who had lost every fight that he had fought, pointed him out as the one and only man to meet the armies of the greatest empire in the world. Nothing in the words of this farmer, who never made a speech, inspired the congress at Philadelphia to turn to him by unanimous consent as the leader of the young nation. Yet Patrick Henry testified that this silent member was "the greatest man" in an assemblage which Lord Chat-laine declared never had its superior anywhere in history.

George Washington.

As he went to the front, he met a courier on a lathered horse, bearing the dreadful news of Bunker Hill. "Did the militia fight?" was all he wished to know. "Yes," "Then the liberties of the country are safe." Although it is said that Washington never in his life read but one book on the art of war, he knew that if the people would only stand up to the king's regulars, they could lose every battle and still defeat an enemy who was 3,000 miles from his base.

The Revolution was not won by the sword of Washington, but by his indomitable character. It was his character, slowly built up by poverty and struggle, which had given him from the start the leadership over men who talked more; yes, and who knew more.

The invincible fortitude of a people, heroically embodied in him, overthrew the king's army and navy and his Hessians. The unconquerable spirit of the 3,000 hunted, starving, shivering, ragged Continentals of Valley Forge wrested from the British crown an empire greater than all the conquests made by Napoleon's grand army.

At the last, as the Americans leaped those last hurdles to independence, the British redoubts at Yorktown, Washington only said: "The work is done and well done. Bring me my horse."

The war was over, but the noblest victory was yet to come. Having received the surrender sword of Cornwallis, Washington surrendered his own, unattained by personal ambition, to the people who had entrusted it to him and went back to his farm, from which he was called to become the first president of the republic.

No president has been more bitterly abused than the first. His cabinet quarreled until Jefferson, his secretary of state, resigned, and his next secretary, Edmund Randolph, basely betrayed him. His vice president, John Adams, called him "an old mutton head," who had "not been found out only because he kept his mouth shut." "Trescherous in private friendship and a hypocrite in public life," Thomas Paine pronounced him. Because he refused to take the side of revolutionary France, "10,000 persons in the streets of Philadelphia"—then the capital—"threatened to drag Washington out of his house," John Adams tells us.

Notwithstanding the outbursts of partisanship, he retained the confidence of the country to the last, when the people at the inauguration of his successor followed the retiring president into the street and left the new president all but deserted. The long task of the homesick exile from Mount Vernon was done. He had found the Union a theory and he had left it a

HANDS, ARMS, LIMBS ASLEEP

And Was Run-Down, Weak and Nervous, Says Florida Lady. Five Bottles of Cardui Made Her Well.

Kathleen, Fla.—Mrs. Dallas Prince, of this place, says: "After the birth of my last child, I got very much run-down and weakened, so much that I could hardly do anything at all. I was so awfully nervous that I could scarcely endure the least noise. My condition was getting worse all the time."

I knew I must have some relief or I would soon be in the bed and in a serious condition for I felt so badly and was so nervous and weak I could hardly live. My husband asked Dr. —about my taking Cardui. He said, "It's a good medicine, and good for that trouble," so he got me 5 bottles. After about the second bottle I felt greatly improved. Before taking it my limbs and hands and arms would go to sleep. After taking it, however, this poor circulation disappeared. My strength came back to me and I was soon on the road to health. After the use of about 5 bottles, I could do all my housework and attend to my six children besides."

You can feel safe in giving Cardui a thorough trial for your troubles. It contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs, but is composed of mild, vegetable, medicinal ingredients with no bad after-effects. Thousands of women have voluntarily written, telling of the good Cardui has done them. It should help you, too. Try it. E 74

MANY SUGGESTIONS FOR IDEAL SECTION

The best thought of the highway engineers of America is being given to the drafting of specifications for the "ideal section" to be built somewhere along the Lincoln Highway with funds provided by the United States Rubber Company.

The Lincoln Highway Association is receiving hundreds of suggestions from engineers in every part of the United States, indicating a deep interest in the project.

As was expected a wide diversity of opinion as regards the specifications for such an "ideal section" is being indicated. As rapidly as possible the officials of this Association are tabulating the replies and suggestions received and these will be subjected to the careful scrutiny of a competent Board of fifteen of the most representative and experienced highway engineers and other authorities in the United States. The personnel of this Board will be named by the Association soon.

It is clearly apparent that the majority of the engineers who have offered suggestions feel that a right of way wider than those now being provided is desirable if the future increase of highway transportation is to be anticipated and provided for

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

The Official Laboratory Model has proved its Realism in 4000 Comparison Tests, made before 3,500,000 people all over the United States and Canada. For instance, in Los Angeles recently, an audience of 1,500 people was unable to tell the difference between the living voice of Miss Marie Morrissey, world-famous contralto, and its RE-CREATION by the New Edison.

There's a way for you to test the wonderful Realism claimed for the Official Laboratory Model in this sweeping challenge. We give Mr. Edison's Realism Test. Come in and let us give it to you.

The price of the new Edison has advanced less than 15% since August 1, 1914. Mr. Edison has absorbed the bulk of the increased cost of material, skilled labor, and taxes. He is determined to keep the New Edison within the reach of everyone. But conditions may force a price-advance. Buy your New Edison now! Our Budget Plan makes it easy. An Invitation to Talking-Machine Manufacturers

"We are informed that the representatives of one or more talking-machine manufacturers have stated, on several occasions, that they are able to distinguish between a singer's voice, or instrumentalist's performance, and the New Edison's RE-CREATION of such voice or performance."

"We hereby invite responsible representatives of any reputable talking-machine manufacturer to permit themselves to be blindfolded, and to listen to such a comparison, in the presence of judges of their own choosing, indicating to the judges when they think they are listening to the artist, and when to the New Edison. There is only one condition attached, and that is—that the representatives of the talking-machine company, and the judges selected by them, shall sign a written statement, setting forth, in full detail, the results of the test."

"The test will be made with an Official Laboratory Model, taken from stock, such as can be bought in any Edison dealer's store."

AT LAST, RELIEF FROM RHEUMATISM

Now Is An Excellent Time to Get Rid of Its Tortures.

Rheumatism is more than a mere local disorder confined to the locality of the painful parts. It cannot be rubbed away, because it is a deep-seated disease that has its source in the blood supply. The millions of little disease germs that cause the disease must be reached and eliminated from the blood before real relief can be had. S. S. S. has been successfully used for Rheumatism for more than fifty years. It is the most thorough and reliable blood remedy because it searches out and eliminates the disease germs which infect the blood. For free expert medical advice regarding your own case, write fully to Chief Medical Adviser, Swift Laboratory, Atlanta.

Imperceptible tint makes tinted glasses very practical for wear on all occasions when relief is desired from annoying heat and chemical rays of light.

However, tinted glasses are distinctive because the tint is practically unnoticeable and gives us clear a vision as all-white glasses.

See more clearly than ever and preserve your eyes from inflammation, strain and other serious complications by wearing glasses that absorb the unnecessary rays of light.

Tinted Glasses stop the blinking and twitching that come from strained nerves, produced by over exposure to both light and heat rays.

In Truck Transportation.

A new world's record for 13 days, 5 hours, for the 3,500 mile trans-continental trip from Los Angeles to New York has been made by a pneumatically equipped motor truck of The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.

The previous record of 17 days and 3 hours was established in 1913 by a light weight Maxwell truck.

When the three-ton Packard that had hung up the new coast record rolled into New York City, it had traveled from the Atlantic to the Pacific four times since 1918 and rolled a total of 130,000 miles.

Driven by Howard Sholder and Herbert Temple, the big freighter traveled over 2,000 miles over the Santa Fe route to Kansas City in 8 days and 13 hours despite 32 hrs lost because of bad roads and detours in New Mexico.

Just 12 days after leaving Los Angeles, the big truck rolled into the factories at Akron—a distance of each other every six hours, one ed each other every six hours, one sleeping in a comfortable cab behind the driver's seat, while the other maintained the schedule.

The truck made its first trans-continental run from Boston to San Francisco in September, 1918—3,700 miles, in 21 days. The same truck traveled with an army transport train over the Lincoln Highway in 1919 and since then has been giving demonstrations along the Pacific coast.

Company officials believe that the new record with its average daily run of 250 miles, will stand for some time. —Goodyear News Service.

U-BOAT PRISONER TELLS EXPERIENCE

Office Of Ill-Fated U. S. S. Neptune Gives Story Of Remark-Adventure and Recovery

Richard Cannon, Chief Petty Officer of the U. S. S. Neptune, whose dramatic capture at sea by a German U-boat and subsequent experiences aboard the submarine and in a German prison hospital, thrilled the entire country, is still another world war hero to test the remarkable reconstructive powers of Tangle and give it his strong endorsement. Mr. Cannon's adventures were so harrowing that his constitution was completely shattered but after months of suffering he has now regained the wonderful health that enabled him to pull thru his adventures alive and is today the same strapping, two hundred pound fighter that embarked on the ill-fated collier. But let him tell his own story:

"When the Neptune was torpedoed off the Irish coast," said Mr. Cannon, who now lives at 747 E. Lafayette, Tampa, Florida, "I had my right leg and five ribs broken by the explosion, and when I came to my senses I found myself on board a submarine bound for Germany. I was kept in a German prison hospital for five months, and you can imagine what I must have suffered when I tell you that I fell off in weight from two hundred and twenty-five pounds to a hundred and thirty-one pounds. When I was repatriated and finally got my discharge in February, 1919, I was little better than a living skeleton. I had no appetite and my digestive system was so upset that what little I did eat always gave me severe pains in the pit of my stomach. Before I joined the service I never knew what nerves were, but after what I went thru my nerves were so shattered that I couldn't keep still a minute, and the slightest thing upset me. For six months I continued in this condition, unable to pick up strength, and so weak that any attempt to work tired me out completely. I began to think that I should never be a well and strong man again.

"But the way Tangle overcame my troubles and built me up was nothing short of marvelous. It gave me such an appetite that I wanted to eat all the while, and I sure did make up for lost time. I had no more bother with indigestion and from then on I picked up strength and put on weight until now I tip the beam at two hundred and four pounds and am as well and strong as ever I was before I joined the service. My nerves are steady as a die and I'm like my old self again. Tangle is certainly a wonderful medicine and I think every suffering person ought to try it."

Tangle is sold in Barbourville by the Cut Rate Drug Co. in Artemus by J. G. H. King; and in Porman by N. T. Faulkner & Co.—Adv.

FRANKLIN EFFICIENCY

Almost every motorist has speculated as to how far a non-professional driver can really travel in a day with a standard passenger car. Because the Franklin is easy riding and easy driving, and can take curves with speed, comfort and safety, it is natural that Franklin drivers should be the first ones to find out.

Accordingly, in the summer and autumn of 1919, a series of long distance mileage runs took place and of these R. H. Cramer holds the highest record. Mr. Cramer drove exclusively on Iowa dirt roads on October 24, a cloudy, rainy day; 108.4 miles of the traveling was thru rain and mud; the stock Franklin Touring Car had a capacity load, five passengers. Despite these conditions, Mr. Cramer traveled 865.4 miles in 24 hours, averaging 37.5 M. P. H. Other test runs which disclose Franklin roadability, are:

J. H. Manion of Indianapolis, Ind.—746.1 miles in 24 hours elapsed time.

P. A. Pfohl of Indianapolis, Ind.—808.9 miles in 24 hours elapsed time.

Will Diddel of Indianapolis, Ind.—832.6 miles in 24 hours elapsed time.

GET RID OF YOUR UNPROFITABLE HENS

Lexington.—Experience has demonstrated that it is possible to cull out the non-laying hen, sell her, and thereby save the feed that she would consume and at the same time secure practically as many eggs from the fowls remaining. Farmers are urged to go over their flocks some time in August, September or October and cull out the hens that have already shed their feathers, as they are not the hens that will lay the most eggs during the year. It has been found that as many as 15 per cent of the flock can be eliminated in this way and the farmer will still get as many eggs from the remaining 85 per cent. In the meantime, save the feed that these boarders would consume. Circular No. 74 has just been issued by the College of Agriculture giving full particulars for this culling work. This circular can be secured by simply writing a post card to the College of Agriculture, Lexington, Ky.

Among the recent notable acquisitions of the American Museum of Natural History is a block of vertebrate fossils from the great fossil quarry at Agate, Neb. A section from the richer part of the quarry was selected, skillfully removed, boxed and transported to New York. The specimen, weighing about three tons boxed, shows in a space of 5½ by 8 feet as many as 16 skulls, with corresponding numbers of skeleton bones.

Kentucky Agriculture Club Conference met at Lexington June 22, 23, 24, 1920. A large number of Club leaders and representatives from all parts of the State were present, and spent a very valuable as well as an enjoyable week listening to the able lectures on the subject of Club work and community organization given by such able speakers as Prof. M. L. Howell, Prof. C. W. Buckler, Rev. E. T. Edmons, Prof. T. R. Bryant, Prof. C. Lambert, Prof. J. M. Feltner and others. When we hear such men as these and Dean Cooper and Pres. McVey of the State University, coming forward and saying that they are going to back up the Club leaders and the Club boys and girls it makes us feel sure that there is going to be something done. We are glad to say, like the song, that we are one of "them."

We are proud of such a leader as we have in the person of J. M. Feltner as District Agent of the Eastern part of the State. We think that under the guidance of such a leader within a few years we shall have accomplished much good for our Club boys and girls.

And so now, Club Members of Knox County, let's get busy and let the other folks know that we mean business no matter if we are located way back among the hollows and the hills. Just keep hoeing your tomatoes, feeding your chicks and calves and giving your pigs butter-milk, shorts and tankage and watch them make hogs of themselves. So luck to you, Club Members.

NOTE—This is real news and the Advocate, which is a personal friend of J. M. Feltner, would like to have frequent reports of what the Boys and Girls Clubs are doing in our County.

LESSON FROM FRANCE

French coal miners and railway men, who have been on strike at different times over a period of several months, are all back at work, according to reports from abroad. It is said that 120,000 miners lost wages totaling 40,000,000 francs, with a loss in production of almost 800,000 tons of coal. The experience of the French should be taken to heart by those in this country who think they can better their condition by quitting work and shutting off their means of income.—Ex.
